Was History Ever Such Fun?

A Magical Day in History!

STEP BACK IN TIME . . .

with England's Medieval Festival and Craft Fair

AT HERSTMONCEUX CASTLE, NEAR HAILSHAM

in East Sussex; England's largest and most spectacular celebration of the colourful Middle Ages. Celebrating its eighteenth year, this unique event is held over the three days of the bank holiday weekend and has welcomed over 160,000 visitors from around the world.

Only at Herstmonceux can you experience the true flavour, sights and sounds of Medieval England. Over 1000 authentically costumed medievalists take you back to a time of heraldry and heroism.

The walls of the fairy-tale 15th century moated castle and battlefield come under siege from the massed forces of opposing armies. Hear the crash of broadswords on heavy armour; the rallying call of battle cries as the troops are martialled into position and the eerie hiss of volley after volley of arrows overhead; experience the smell of black powder from salvo after salvo of cannon fire. Witness the incredible sight of the siege engine as it hurls its deadly load toward the castle defenders. Sieges are mounted twice daily at 11am at the front of the castle and 3pm on the battlefield.

in a contest for supremacy that still wins modern equivalents of ancient prizes. Choose your champion! And cheer him to victory!

Between the battles for the castle, life goes on as normal in the living history encampments, with 'hands on' exhibits and demonstrations; see ancient crafts being demonstrated such as the fabrication of authentic chain mail and medieval boot-making. Experience the sights, smells and tastes of old with medieval kitchens conjuring up authentic fayre of the time. Europe's largest medieval trader's market takes you to the very essence of medieval life, from the music of strolling minstrels to the shouts of craftsmen and merchants, whilst market

And when the fighting is over? Europe's finest bowmen gather to compete in the longbow and crossbow competitions for prestige and prizes. Or try it yourself: enter the have-a-go archery, with expert instruction from our archers. Experience displays of the art of falconry in the modern world and learn a thing or two about this ancient craft.

Mounted squires demonstrate their noble skills in the royal arena lane offers more contemporary and modern purchases. Does this feed your thirst for adventure? Try a fine selection of award winning ales, experience the smell of hogs roasting over open fires and taste the delicacies from the medieval kitchens at one of two on-site medieval taverns.

England's Medieval Festival is a magical day out, with activities and entertainment for every member of the family. Learn about the fashion of the day; fall spellbound with tales of courtly love and chivalry. Meet medieval magicians in kids' kingdom and be entertained by the world's greatest fool.

For those who seek a tranquil escape from the hustle and bustle of daily medieval life, relax in the hidden walled gardens and grounds of Herstmonceux Castle; a walk into a mystical spell itself.
